Delta Council continues to support a CCC non-recourse loan and minimum loan floor, income protection features, and a marketing loan. The merits of loan extension provisions of previous farm law should continue to be re-evaluated, in order to determine whether this feature should be restored to enhance more orderly marketing opportunities for producers.

Farm Service Agency acreage bases and program yields should continue to be maintained as a part of the official USDA record of historic and contemporary cropland base.

The imposition of arbitrary limitations on farm program benefits should not be applied to the marketing loan. Any such limitations can have a negative impact on the forfeiture of commodities to the Commodity Credit Corporation of USDA, causing burdensome stocks overhanging market prices.

Delta Council continues to emphasize the importance of domestic farm policy to the economy and society of rural America. In the Mississippi Delta alone, agriculture provides more than 49,000 jobs and $305 million in federal taxes paid to the U.S. Treasury each year. Additionally, Delta agriculture accounts for $173 million in State taxes and estimated at more than 30% of the local tax base throughout counties in Northwest Mississippi, which is crucial to our capacity to maintain essential services such as local road, bridge, law enforcement, fire protection, schools, and other basic local and State services.

Farm programs and international trade policy should be administered in a fashion which allows agriculture to obtain its income from the marketplace; however, during those periods when traditional market forces do not respond to supply and demand signals, or when global economic conditions, dysfunctional international trade, and/or the manipulation of foreign exchange rates cause disruption in U.S. farm income, U.S. domestic farm policy should engage existing features which provide farm income protection.

We oppose efforts to dilute or modify the effectiveness of domestic farm policy through further limitations or means-testing of eligibility for farm program benefits. Delta Council opposes any use of statutes or USDA rulemaking authority to alter or further restrict the eligibility for farm program participation.

Farm Policy

Delta Council praises the Congress for taking the necessary steps to establish a long-term cottonseed and lint policy in the FY'2017 Supplemental Appropriations measure, which allows a cottonseed/lint provision to be included in current farm law as a commodity. We especially wish to take this opportunity for Delta Council to express our gratitude to retired U.S. Senator Thad Cochran for taking this action ... “without whom, it would not have happened”!
